'Obsolete, Misguided': Critics Call Out Pfizer's Bivalent Booster for Kids Under 5

Pfizer and BioNTech said Monday they are seeking Emergency Use Authorization for an updated COVID-19 bivalent booster vaccine for children ages 6 months to 4 years old, but critics said the vaccines are obsolete and too risky.

Editor's Note: On Friday, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention expanded the use of the Pfizer-BioNTech bivalent vaccine for infants and children, ages 6 months to 5 years old.

Pfizer and BioNTech are seeking Emergency Use Authorization (EUA) for an updated COVID-19 bivalent "booster" vaccine for children ages 6 months to 4 years old.

Pfizer on Monday said if the bivalent booster receives EUA, children in this age group will receive two doses of the original COVID-19 vaccine, followed by a dose of the "updated" vaccine targeting Omicron subvariants BA.4 and BA.5.

Previously, children under age 5 could receive a three-dose series of the original COVID-19 vaccine. However, since the shots received EUA in June, only 2% of children under 2 and about 4% of 2- to 4-year-olds have received their primary doses, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

The bivalent vaccine is currently authorized as a "booster" dose in the U.S. and the EU, for children 5 and older.

Bivalent boosters are 'obsolete,' come with 'very concerning side effects'

Drs. Peter McCullough, Meryl Nass and Michelle Perro were critical of Pfizer and BioNTech's bid to receive EUA for the bivalent booster for young children.

Nass told The Defender:

> "There was never anything to recommend the bivalent boosters before they were given an EUA for adults on August 31.
> "It is unconscionable, given what we know about the poor performance of the existing vaccines and their very concerning side effects, that FDA [U.S. Food and Drug Administration] and CDC went along with the new 'boosters' without a single human trial — and now the manufacturers want to give these untested vaccines to children as young as 6 months of age."

Without human trials for the "boosters," said Nass, an internist with special interests in vaccine-induced illnesses, it was "guaranteed that no one would know what their safety issues were — making the whole process of informed consent, which is legally required for unlicensed vaccines — a charade."

Perro, a pediatrician, pointed out that by continuing to administer the original COVID-19 vaccines to children, children are receiving a vaccine "for a virus that is no longer in circulation."

Perro told The Defender, "There are key factors to take into consideration as to why the FDA authorization for the Omicron 'retooled' vaccine would be not only misguided, but malignant for children."

She added:

> "If the authorization is approved, children in the 6-month to 4-year-old age group would receive two doses of the primary series of the original Delta-variant-derived Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine.
> "Any pediatric clinical provider would know that the original vaccine is no longer of any use since the variant has undergone innumerable variations since its emergence. There are now hundreds of new variant lineages, varying in pathogenicity as well as location, with the present variants now being designated informally as 'Coldvid' due to their relatively benign nature.
> "The point is the original vaccine was made for a virus that is no longer in circulation. Following up with the Omicron-adapted bivalent vaccine is equally nonsensical for the same reasoning."

Similarly, McCullough, a cardiologist, questioned the bivalent booster for the youngest age group, telling The Defender that they are "obsolete" and "dead on arrival":

> "The bivalent booster failed to stop Omicron BA.4/BA.5 in animals, but because it was pre-purchased, HHS [U.S. Department of Health and Human Services] decided to use the vaccine and its surrogate antibody rise, irrespective of its failed efficacy or lack of demonstrated safety since there were no human trials.
> "In the last several months BA.4/BA.5 has moved out, giving way to BQ.1 and BQ1.1, so the bivalent boosters are now obsolete even on theoretical grounds. With no theoretical or actual benefit and with no assurances on short or longer term safety, the bivalent boosters are dead on arrival."

In questioning the effectiveness — and need — for the "boosters," Nass referred to a Nov. 18 New York Times report on the "surge" in respiratory illnesses across the U.S., which stated:

> "The newer variants, called BQ.1 and BQ.1.1, are spreading quickly, and boosters seem to do little to prevent infections with these viruses, as they are excellent evaders of immunity."

Addressing the increase in non-COVID-19 respiratory illnesses, Perro said this was set into motion with the introduction of the COVID-19 vaccines.

She told The Defender:

> "Forcing a vaccine schedule with experimental genetic therapeutics for organisms that have morphed since their introduction begs the question as to what is the root cause motivation — whether it be monetary or other. Every illness and its subsequent therapy requires a risk-benefit ratio when evaluating children. In terms of COVID-19, we are giving an already outdated vaccine which has not been studied for a potential disease which has nearly zero risk in kids.
> "The harm to children from this experimental gene-immunomodulating therapy has been demonstrated by our own CDC, documenting severe illness and death in children who have received this unnecessary vaccine. Placing this series on the vaccination schedule for children gives Pharma an indemnity pass.
> "While government agencies are touting viral strains on communities from other pathogens (i.e., RSV and influenza), it should be emphasized that this viral tsunami has been triggered by the introduction of the COVID-19 vaccine which has disarmed and disabled people's innate immunity to fight off these other pathogens."

Nass said the continued expansion of the federal COVID-19 state of emergency allows the administration of EUA vaccines to continue.

"It is only by continuing to declare a pandemic emergency that these exceedingly dangerous, unlicensed EUA vaccines could be used," she said. "If the government was honest and admitted the emergency was over, by law no EUA vaccines could be given to anyone."

Instead, Nass added, the vaccines are illegally mandated, in many cases to attend college, "even though college-age males are at the highest risk of myocarditis and at extremely low risk of a serious case of COVID."

"Our public health establishment, under the leadership of Tony Fauci, Robert Califf and Rochelle Walensky has become a criminal enterprise," Nass said.

According to Perro, "The only authorization must be no authorization and it is time for the FDA to do its job."

It's heartbreaking how many parents have not done their homework on these experimental therapeutics- I use the word therapeutics loosely- and put all trust in pediatricians who themselves ignore the facts and continue to recommend these jabs. Criminal

I know a few of them, related to some. They operate on the fear and outrage and insecurity that is fed to them and then exploited by pharma via their MSM propaganda arm.

They are operating in a tribal mindset - your tribe is anti-science, my tribe is pro-science. So they can't even consider the data or self-evident contradictions - because the "sides" have been defined and they can't be seen as "anti-science" - which is what they essentially deem anyone practicing actual science and/or applying critical thinking and reasoning and basic observations skills.

Being "pro-science" these days means following and not questioning the official narratives.

I think people assume the medium equates to legitimacy.

Most people don't want to think about medical science, it is too complicated for them, so when they see something claimed on the tv (a high tech medium), by someone being referred to as an expert (why would they doubt that) regarding a field that seems overly complex and requiring high levels of "eduction" (the profession or "field" as a medium) they give it all unquestioning legitimacy.

They associate a field that seems advanced and that HAS done advanced things and made great advancements, as cutting edge - so advanced they would "think of that" regarding any concerns you might have. And "would never" be fallible like you or me. Forgetting of course, that our humane nature - good and bad, transcends all that we do.

We shouldn't have to question whether a physician is recommending a safe therapy. They are the ones with the education and making all the money and it just seems we are the ones having to do all the work and they know it. They don't even appreciate the effort we make. It's truly shameful when a desperate parent trying to help their terminally ill child must spend time researching. In the good ole days when we could trust our doctors, they would even recommend getting a second opinion just so the patient would feel completely confident in them. Doctors felt that it was a privilege to have a patient and that they needed to earn the patient's trust and respect. Not anymore.

They are, in fact, Gene Editing Devices and the purpose of them is to alter the Genetic Code of humanity...and kill off millions of people while they're at it. "Therapeutic" means to treat illness - not cause it.

What is criminal? Apparently 70-80% of the world's population carries these harmful experimental 'vaccine' serums in their DNA. The greater medical community goes along with it because of $$$$$$$.

"Court Orders Big Pharma Owned CDC to Release Data Showing ''18 Million Vaccine Injuries'' in America"

More than 18 million people were injured so badly by their first COVID shot from Pfizer or Moderna that they had to go to the hospital. That's according to the CDC's own internal data, which a court just ordered the federal agency to release to a watchdog group.

Its sole purpose is to kill the children. Pl,ain and simple, just like the thousands across the globe who are "dying suddenly", "died unexpectedly " as people of all sports are dying on the field, the court, whatever. Anyone who doubts this should start reading the obits in their local paper.

I saw Dr. David Martin on Youtube recently on one of the Butterfly of the Week videos he does with his wife. He was analyzing Fauci's recent deposition where he said he recalled some type of gain of function work on the influenza virus back in 2014. As it turns out, he lied as Dr. Martin had the paperwork that showed it was the corona virus and not influenza virus. He pointed out that none of the attorneys questioning Dr. Fauci even brought that up. he was evading and lying in a deposition. UNTIL HE GETS HELD ACCOUNTABLE, none of this is going to stop. If Dr. Martin has the paperwork, why don't these attorneys? Their angle is about the censorship, but the real angle should be about Fauci's (as well as the WHO, CDC, Kill Gates and the WEF's) evil agenda

Human beings are being treated no better than rats in a laboratory, it is deliberate. At least the rats were monitored for any effects from the substances put into their bodies. It has been a long torturous journey from "protecting the elderly and frail" to now injecting babies with experimental products. All of it has been pretence, our very sovereignty is under attack where our right to control our own bodies and that of our children is being dismantled. This is not going to end well unless we push back, hard!

Olga Shrestha → annemat • 2 days ago
Yes, we - the people - should definitely push back! The hint on how to do that can be found in Alexander Dugin's book entitled "The Great Awakening vs the Great Reset". The book has been widely censored and removed from book shelves but it can be still obtained in paper format at Amazon.co.uk. Modest 86 pgs but worth reading! The final takeaway is: the sooner humanity wakes up from this mass psychosis, the better its chances of overcoming this evil.

The arguments from Dr. Perro and McCullough are pointless. The fact is, children are not at risk from Covid, so they do not need any shots. Actually, since the shots don't work, no one needs them. This needs to stop. I know people who have died after receiving the shot, yet don't know anyone who died from supposed Covid. All of this is based on lies and everyone needs to stop listening to anyone who says the shots are needed.

Permitting a corporation to demand its defective products are used is insane! Pfizer needs to be prosecuted for all the damage its products have done, since 1986 and before. It got off the hook in 1986, when Congress passed The National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act, which took away all its liabilty for INJURIES AND DEATHS??? This was criminal on part of Congress to pass this act. Why is an organization like this in existence? People need to demand the truth!

Not saying what is in this article is unimportant, but a much bigger issue exists with all mRNA-based pseudo-vaccines -- they will by definition cause violent cell death and inflammation, regardless of whether or not they make the deadly spike protein of covid,shots.

My hope is that CHD will very soon take the lead in actively getting this "lifesaving info" out to all Americans, rather than leaving it to chance that they find it buried in the CHD video below.

===== More Detail

There is an urgent need to ban "Bivalent Boosters," and all other mRNA-based pseudo-vaccines, because they all have a fundamental flaw, that can seriously injure or kill humans. A flaw, which all MD's should be aware of, from their medical school training.

This flaw is being hidden from the public by "smoke screen" articles in the MSM that distract "we the people." All Americans need to be made aware of this "lifesaving info," because the criminals are planning to use mRNA technology in virtually all vaccines in the future. Is crazy, but not unexpected.

The physicians going along with this narrative, in my opinion, are only doing so out of desperation. They know what's up. They also know, again in my opinion, that if they go against the narrative they will be canceled. They & their practice will be defamed, they will have their license stripped from them, and will have no means of providing for themselves or their families that count on them, they'll lose their reputation, their career, their house, their spouse will leave them because they can no longer provide, which will lead them to treasure hunting for the glass at the bottom of a bottle or few, and ultimately to the blubbering mess they've become, sitting on the floor in a dark corner of their foreclosed home, tears streaming down their face as they whine around the barrel of the gun they've placed between their teeth how sorry they are as they slowly squeeze the trigger, splattering the family photos on the wall behind them with every thought, every memory, and every dream they ever had…
